Dear Agnes

perhaps you may need more money than you have in your marriage preparations so I thought I would send you this check in advance of the wedding day. Yet I would rather you would hold the check till then, to appear among your wedding presents. But not if you have present need for the money or any part of it.

We are expecting you and Mr. Weaver and Miss Wooling is preparing to have the wedding sort of repeated here, something like the summer she planned for Anne, and which Aunt Lizzie vetoed for some reason.

or other, Dillon wrote me for permission to come home, and I consented to it. A general commencement program that does not interest him is breaking into the studies so that he thinks all progress has ceased for this session.

Mrs Swaling and I will go to Knoxville for Saturday returning Sunday and expect Dillon to join us on our way home.

We are getting on nicely and all are well as usual.

Mrs Swaling is having great success in the chicken business and has about 800 eggs put down in "water glass" for hard times."

We are just finishing up a cold snap with temperature down to 35° last night - no harm done.

Hoping you are in good health I am affectionately Yours
Uncle Timothy Mornley
